

FLYING SOLO APPLICATION QUESTIONS | FEBRUARY 20

- If you are single, what are some ways that you can steward, or are currently stewarding, the gift of singleness which God has given you in order to build His Kingdom and be a blessing to others? If you're married, what are some of the gifts you have been given and how can you steward those gifts for His purposes?
- Describe a time when you were hurting or lonely and someone saw you and moved toward you. What difference did that make for you?
- Who is someone in your sphere of influence that might be blessed by you seeing them and moving toward them? How can you do this? (Feel free to leave their names out of the discussion.)
